Lifelong Learning

that is, lifelong learning:

"All forms of lifelong learning aimed at improving and deepening knowledge, skills and competences from a personal, civic, social and/or professional"

Emerging new skills - professional and social - are necessary both in private and professional life to avoid marginalization, remain an active citizen, and achieve and maintain a high standard of living.

All this requires continuous development at all ages.

New basic skills - acquiring and improving skills, including: effective communication in a foreign language, interpersonal skills, which are a priority. The knowledge that is acquired must be used in specific action. We can refer here to two of the four pillars of education in the Delors report: learning to know, learning to do.

At the third meeting on March 11, 2025, participants took a test to check their level of English.

One of the most famous places there is undoubtedly the Acropolis hill, from which you can admire the panorama of the city and the surrounding area. The most important building there is the Parthenon, a temple built in honor of Athena, the Greek goddess of wisdom, art and just war and guardians of cities, among others Athens and Sparta.

The Acropolis Museum in Athens is a modern glass and steel building, with ancient archaeological artifacts found on the site.

CRUISE TO THE HYDRA AND SPETSES ISLANDS

The picturesque Hydra is full of elegant residences and on the waterfront you can visit many cozy restaurants and shops offering jewelry and souvenirs. Very popular and the only means of transport allowed here are donkeys, making the atmosphere as picturesque and peaceful as possible. Hydra has become an island beloved by artists, painters and musicians who find inspiration in its narrow, winding streets and picturesque architecture. Leonard Cohen lived here for a while, whom she inspired to compose many famous songs. On the island of Spetses, it is worth visiting the house behind the port - the museum of Laskarina Bubulina, in the main dock you can see a life-size statue of the famous fighting heroine for the liberation of the Greeks from Ottoman slavery.

Returning to the port, walking along the seashore we will reach the Poseidonion Grand Hotel, this beautiful historic building is a gem in a great location.

Currently, the island with a large number of hotels is a popular tourist destination, and also the purpose of trips.

As part of the ERASMUS + project, we learned what GAMIFICATION means, that it is our way of thinking, process, experience and what practical applications it has in many different situations.

We have also achieved the goal: we are motivated to act, encouraged to learn and solve problems, we have learned how to build positive interpersonal relationships and how to maintain a healthy lifestyle.

The idea is to turn boring or unattractive activities into fun.
